

Boy Scout Troop 112

Carmel Lions Club

141 East Main Street
Carmel, IN 46033

WELCOME...

Boy Scout Troop 112 welcomes you to Scouting! This pamphlet is intended to tell you a little bit about what you can expect from Troop 112 and what is expected of you when you join. This brochure will fit inside the cover of your Boy Scout Handbook, so you can refer to it easily.

Troop 112 is different from your other activities outside of school. Being in Troop 112 will help you learn to be responsible for your own actions and activities. Boys are expected to take an active role in Troop management and leadership, with guidance, of course, from adult leaders.

Scouts are expected to live by the Scout Oath and the twelve points of the Scout Law and become better citizens tomorrow because of it. We expect you to participate in Scout activities, learn Scouting skills, and most importantly, have fun while you are a member of our Troop.

You must keep Scouting in proper perspective at all times, so remember... school work and family obligations always come first!!

HISTORY

Troop 112 was founded on March 1, 1941 and represents one of the oldest Boy Scout units in the area. The Troop has been centered in the Carmel community area during this time. Our Troop can proudly boast of producing over 200 Eagle Scouts in the past. We are open to any boy in the Carmel area, regardless of race, religion, or creed.

OUR SPONSOR

Troop 112 is sponsored by the Carmel Lions Club, which is a group of men and women who volunteer service to the community. The Carmel Lions Club provides us with a place to meet and some financial support throughout the year. In turn, Troop 112 shows its appreciation by helping the Lions Club with their annual Fish Fry in August and other projects where the Lions Club asks for assistance from the Troop, which is a mandatory service project for all Troop 112 Scouts.

MEETINGS

Troop 112 meets at the Carmel Lions Club, 141 East Main Street in Carmel, on Monday evening at 7:00 PM. Meetings normally last 90 minutes. We meet throughout the year except during summer camp and major holidays. As a member of Troop 112, regular meeting attendance is expected after school work and family obligations have been met.

DUES

Troop dues are collected in December each year or when a boy crosses over as a WEBELOS. Dues are $65.00 a year. The dues cover:

- $10.00 National BSA Membership Fee
- $ 1.00 Insurance
- $10.80 Boys Life
- $43.20 Troop Membership Fee (pays for badges, awards, equipment and other expenses incurred by the Troop as a whole)

Eagle Scouts who remain active in the troop are afforded a discount on their dues.

Dues cover only a portion of the Troop's operating expense; the remainder comes from sponsor support, donations, activity fees, and/or special designated fund raising activities. It is the Troop's policy that 100% of the net earnings from fundraisers are for the individual Scout's use.

Until dues are paid, a boy is not registered with the Troop and, because of insurance, cannot go on Troop outings.

FUNDRAISING

Troop 112 sponsors three fundraising events. These events are: 1) Pizza Sales (March), 2) Holiday Wreath Sales (October/November) and 3) BSA Popcorn sales. Troop 112 has the philosophy that the profits from the fundraising events are deposited into the boys Scout account. In the event that the Troop needs to raise funds for a major capital expenditure, e.g. new trailer or tents, the committee may elect to have a specific fund raising event for that purchase or designate a portion of the profits from one of the sponsored event to go the Troop fund.

YOUR SCOUT ACCOUNT

A "Scout Account" is established for you when you join the Troop. You will have an opportunity to add money to your scout account by participating in the Troop sponsored fundraising events. You can spend the money in your scout account on any scouting activity you like, such as summer camp, a ski trip or any other Troop outing. By participating in these fundraisers you can get experience earning your own money and you can also help your parents pay for your scouting activities.

In addition to paying for Troop outings, your Scout Account is used to pay your dues the following year. You may also use your "Scout Account" to purchase Scout items from the BSA Scout store or to purchase camping supplies from a local merchant. To use your Scout Account at the Scout shop or local merchants you will need to: 1) Seek approval to purchase the item from the Scoutmaster (items must be used by the Scout in Scouting), 2) Purchase the items, and 3) Turn in the receipt to the Troop Treasurer for reimbursement. If you transfer to another Troop, if the receiving Troop has Scout accounts, you may request that you Scout Fund be transferred to the receiving Troop. Scout accounts associated with Scouts who drop out of Scouting are put into the general fund.

UNIFORMS

Scout uniforms are worn at all Troop functions and Scout sponsored activities. In addition to Troop or Scout sponsored activities, the Scout uniform is worn during the travel to and from a Troop activity, e.g. monthly outdoor activity. Scouts are expected to eventually have a complete uniform and wear it. Uniforms may be purchased at the Scout Office in Indianapolis. Serviceable uniforms can frequently be obtained through a uniform exchange operated within the Troop.

Boy Scout Uniform

- ♣ Scout long-sleeved or short-sleeved shirt with appropriate insignia

- ♣ Scout pants or shorts
- ♣ Scout socks or knee socks
- ♣ Scout belt and buckle
- ♣ Scout neckerchief (worn at Court of Honor or special occasions)

The Scout shirt is often referred to as the "Class A". Only Scout hats are worn with the Scout uniform. It is suggested that a boy have a short sleeve Scout shirt (long sleeve red turtle neck T-shirts may be worn under the short sleeve shirt during the winter). Insignia is available at the Scout shop located at Crossroads of America Council headquarters or through the Troop. Badges of rank and leadership positions are provided by the Troop.

Troop 112 has a distinctive t-shirt decorated with the Troop logo for summer wear and for activities where a uniform shirt is just not appropriate. This shirt is usually referred to as the Troop's "Class B" uniform. The Troop 112 t-shirt is made available to each new member upon joining the Troop, through the adult quartermaster. Other t-shirts with Scouting logo's are also classified as "Class B" uniforms.

In the interim period while a Scout is acquiring a complete uniform, it is acceptable for the Scout to wear khaki or dark green pants to meetings and activities. Athletic shorts of any color are not acceptable. A good rule to follow is, "if the pants do not have a zipper or belt loops, don't wear them."

LEADERSHIP

The longer you are in Scouting, the more the Troop will recognize your experience and knowledge by offering you positions of leadership. Being a good leader is a skill that can be learned only by doing it. Troop leadership opportunities will allow you to speak in front of people, guide discussions, make decisions, and encourage others toward greater achievements.

Your patrol is the building block of Scouting. Each patrol in the Troop is a team of about eight Scouts. Patrol Leaders are responsible for their individual patrols at all times. With the help of your patrol leader, you plan together, learn together, and turn your plans into action. Your patrol elects its patrol leader every six months. Every member of your patrol has a responsibility, or job.

The Senior Patrol Leader (SPL) is the boy leader of the troop. Twice a year, the Troop holds an election for the position of senior patrol leader. The senior patrol leader appoints his Assistant Senior Patrol Leaders and advises with the Scoutmaster on other positions of leadership. The SPL sets the agenda, presides at all Patrol Leaders Council meetings and runs the weekly troop meetings. The senior patrol leader, all of the patrol leaders and the Scouts holding other positions of leadership make up the Patrol Leaders Council (the "PLC"). The PLC meets once a month with the Scoutmaster to plan meetings and outings. The PLC meets on the first Sunday of each month, at 6:00 PM, Lions Club.

It is important to note, that when you assume a leadership role in the Troop, you are expected to meet the requirements of leadership as indicated in the leadership position description. The leadership position description outlines the roles and responsibilities of each position, as well as participation requirements. If you do not have adequate participation during your tenure in the position, the time spent in this position will not count toward rank advancement. If you are not at activities, you cannot demonstrate leadership.

TROOP COMMUNICATION

Troop 112 tries very hard to offer a variety of communication methods.

Website

The Troop 112 website is located at www.carmeltroop112.org. Located at this site is a calendar of events, news concerning upcoming activities, and information concerning past events.

Newsletters

Newsletters are distributed to the Scouts at a Troop meeting each month. The Scoutmaster has a box containing file folders where information is placed. In this box, each Scout has their own file folder. Each Scout should look in the box at the end of each meeting for newsletters, skill instruction handouts, and other information that needs to be communicated to the Scout and their parents.

Email

Email is a primary communication tool for the Troop. Please provide the Scouts and the parents email to the Scoutmaster. It is very important that you check your email the day of the Troop activity, as there may be last minute updates.

TROOP 112 OUTDOOR PROGRAMS

A strong outdoor program is vital to the health of every Scout troop. Outdoors is a classroom without walls and is ideal for teaching Scout skills. Scouts who share the same trail, cook and eat together learn the value of teamwork, learn patience, respect opinions of others, and develop lasting relationships. On the trail and in camp, boy leaders face real leadership challenges. Outdoors is where the adventure begins.

At a minimum, Scouts should be spending at least ten days and nights outdoors each year via:

- Troop and Patrol hikes
- Resident Camping
- Short-term camping
- Camporee and Jamborees
- National and Council high-adventure programs
- Troop planned high-adventure activity

Weekend Camping Trips

Troop 112 attempts to have an outdoor Scouting activity each month of the year with the exception of the holiday season during December. The activities are limited only by the imagination of the boys and their desire to organize and participate in them. One of these outings is a Merit Trip, which discussed separately.

Parent permission slips are required for each activity. In addition, a current Class II medical form (less than three years old) is required to be on file with the Troop. Class III medical forms are required each year for all adults and youth attending High Adventure outings.

The Troop usually meets in the parking lot of the Lions Club at 5:30 PM on Friday. We usually leave our campsite at 9:00 AM on Sunday morning and arrive back to the Lions Club between 11:00 AM and noon depending on the distance from the campsite. When we arrive at the Lions Club, the Troop will unload the Troop trailer and the Troop Quartermaster will assign gear to the participants to take home to clean and/or dry and repack (tents). All Patrol and Troop gear, i.e. tents, must be returned to the Lions Club at the following scheduled meeting. The Troop typically does not meet the following Monday after an outing.

Only active Scouts, their Parents, Legal Guardians, and Registered Scout Leaders can go on a trip.

Each Patrol is responsible for planning; purchase and cooking their weekend meals. Consistent with the Patrol Method, a Scout is assigned as the Patrol Grubmaster. The Patrol Grubmaster duties are rotated throughout the Patrol, so that each Scout gets an opportunity to shop. Scouts participating are given a budget of $3.00 per meal per Scout for purchase of supplies. Scouts should plan on eating prior to departure on Friday or bring a sack lunch for Friday night. The cost of a weekend outing is typically $15.

Summer Camp

Troop 112 typically will schedule summer camp after July 4th and before the start of school. Troop 112 typically attends Camp Ransburg for summer camp. Beautifully situated on Lake Monroe, one of the state's largest lakes, Camp Ransburg is 624 acres of adventure. Sailing, water skiing, horseback riding, hiking, nature trails and more await each Scout who spends a memorable week at Ransburg.

All new Scouts are strongly encouraged to attend summer camp. In February/March timeframe, the Troop will begin collecting a $100 deposit for summer camp and final payment is due May. In 2004, the fee for summer cost was $180.

In order to reward and encourage our Scouts to participate in the Troop's monthly outings, Troop 112 has implemented three new programs. These programs are 1) Merit Trip 2) Camping Coup Program, and the 3) 100% Camper Award,

Merit Trip

This camping trip in June is 3 to 5 days in length and will take place after school is out. Scouts must earn the right to attend this trip. The requirements for attending this trip are:

1. Participate in 70% of the Troops monthly outings or events. You must sleep over at least one night.
2. Attend two-thirds of the District Camporee's.
3. Perform 10 hours of community service.
4. Participate in the annual Lions Club Fish Fry.

The requirements may vary slightly. Requirements are determined by the Patrol Leaders Council. The Troop pays for all the basic expenses of the Merit Trip.

Camping Coup Program

Native American Indians were awarded an eagle feather called a feather coup (pronounced coo) for acts of bravery. An Indian would rather part with his horse, tepee or even his wife, than to lose his eagle feathers. To do so would be dishonor in the eyes of the Tribe. The camping coup program is based on this Native American Indian tradition.

The camping coup is a bead or other small object that is given to a Scout or Adult Leader for attending a campout or other special event. The coups are displayed on coup holder, a leather fob, with 2 leather strands. The fob is slit so it can be worn on a belt.

The purpose of the camping coup program is 1) reward those who actively attend campouts and other Troop activities, 2) motivate Scouts and Adult Leaders to attend campouts, 3) promote excitement and pride in accomplishments, 4) provide memories of past camping experiences, 5) generate a visible record of attendance and camping history for advancement in Scouting, and most of all to have fun!

100% Camper Award

Scouts who attend all Troop camping trips including Summer Camp will receive the 100% Camper Award at the May, Court of Honor.

CAMPING EQUIPMENT AND CLOTHING

When outfitting a new Scout, you are faced with buying a lot of equipment within a short period of time. Several stores in the Carmel area offer a Scout discounts, e.g. Extreme Outfitters and Dick's. Postpone equipment purchases until your son demonstrates he is committed to Scouting – not all boys that join Scouts stay in Scouts. Here are some suggestions to help you as your son gets started.

- ♣ A backpack is not needed until the program indicates that we will be backpacking. An old duffel bag or sports bag will work fine. Trash bags or other light duty bags will not work.
- ♣ A daypack will likely be needed for many trips, including day hikes, camporees, summer camp, etc. It should be big enough to carry a lunch, water bottle, Scout Handbook, jacket and gloves. A school "book bag" may be adequate, but remember it will get dirty, wet and thoroughly used, so last year's bag would be appropriate.
- ♣ Acquire equipment slowly as needed. Scout equipment makes great gifts.
- ♣ We camp in all seasons. Make sure the equipment can be used in all 12 months.
- ♣ Talk with older Scouts and Scouter's about what equipment they have found to be the best.
- ♣ "Buy Quality Once, Cheap Twice!" This saying applies to equipment purchases. Try to buy quality equipment as it will tend to last longer.

Troop 112 Ten Outdoor Essentials

This is a minimal, "survival" list. You should have these items with you on all Troop 112 outdoor activities.

Troop 112 Ten Outdoor Essentials

Pocket Knife (with Totin-Chip Card)	Personal First Aid Kit
Matches in Waterproof Container	Flashlight with Good Batteries
Rain Gear	Emergency Snack Bar(s)
Compass (& map if indicated)	Whistle or Signaling Device
Water Bottle (1 liter Lexan bottle filled)	Extra Clothes Based on Weather and Area

Personal Overnight Camping Gear for Beginning Scouts

- Mess Kit Lexan bowl, plate and cup are fine. BSA mess kit is fine, but too heavy for backpacking and the metal will get hot to handle from the food. The cup should have a handle. As the Scout becomes more experienced, they will gravitate to using only the bowl and cup.
- Utensils Knife, fork, and spoon (stainless steel or Lexan). Do not bring plastic picnic utensils.
- Sleeping Bag A good sleeping bag is one the most important items to purchase. A Scout who is cold on an event will not look forward to future campouts. Although goose down bags are lighter in weight, they do not insulate well when wet. A synthetic bag with a rating of 20° or lower is a good choice. In the summer time, the Scout can sleep with the bag unzipped and in the winter, you can add a fleece liner to reduce the rating. Cotton sleeping bags are not recommended.
- Sleeping Pad A pad is used to insulate the camper from the ground. It is not used for comfort. More body heat is lost to the ground than to the air. When camping in winter a good pad is essential.
- Rain Gear Campmor.com and other online catalog suppliers have nylons suits that stuff into small bags. They are lightweight and cover well in a blowing rain and are less likely to overheat. Ponchos are ok for an emergency, but in a blowing rain you are likely to get wet.
- Knife Swiss Army knife is fine, but avoid one that has too many gadgets on it. A BSA knife is always a good choice. Sheath knives are not acceptable on Troop outing per the BSA guidelines.
- Flashlight It should be waterproof and durable to withstand being dropped. Always carry extra batteries. A headlamp is a good option, since it frees up hands for setting up tents or other activities in the dark.
- Compass A reliable compass is a must for every Scout. You don't need to spend a lot of money to obtain this item, $7 - $15. It should have a clear plastic base with directional arrow and, preferably a small scale on the side.
- First Aid Kit The Scout Handbook lists the essential items to have in a personal first aid kit. Your personal first aid kit should be brought on every outing.
- Hiking Boots High tops hiking boots offer the best support. You will want to have them broken in before any long hikes. Most hiking boots have a Gortex® lining which aids in keeping your feet dry. Dry feet are always a plus on a campout.
- Socks Socks are one of the most important items you can pack for a campout. The preferred hiking sock is wool. A good choice is Smartwool®. Polypropylene sock liners are a must for long hikes or cold weather camping. The liner "wicks" sweat away from the foot greatly reducing risks of problems from blisters or cold feet. Make sure enough socks are packed for each outing, plus an extra pair. Cotton socks are not a good choice.

Please label every item that a Scout owns, with either the Scouts last name or initials. When items are misplaced, it makes the task of returning the item to the proper owner easier.

Backpacking/Hiking Gear

Internal frames are very popular. However, for a new Scout, an external frame is an excellent choice. The pack should fit the Scout now! Don't plan on your Scout growing into a backpack or purchasing a backpack that they would eventually use on a High Adventure trip, such as Philmont. When selecting a backpack consider the following: a) ask other Scouts and Scouters their opinion and have your son try on several types of backpacks to see which one they like. b) Purchase the pack from a reputable store so that the backpack can be fitted properly. And c) get out the internet for information on selecting backpacks. REI.com is an excellent site which discusses the selection of a backpack.

Backpack The pack should fit the Scout NOW! Good youth packs include the Jansport® Scout, BSA pack or the Kelty® Youth pack. The hip belt should fit snugly (the weight of the backpack should be supported by the hips). These external frame backpacks will work fine for younger Scouts for a few years. Generally, a Scout should carry approximately 20% of their body weight in a properly fitted backpack.

Pack Cover The pack cover will cover the backpack when hiking in the rain. It is also used to cover the pack up over night.

Cold Weather Camping

Clothing Layering is the key! Dress like an onion! The first layer is the single most important item, long underwear. The best fabric is polypropylene. Common brand names are Thermax®, Polatec®, and Capilene®. Do not purchase cotton long johns. Once wet or damp from perspiration, the material will chill you. A set for the activities during the day and another set to sleep in is the preferred way to stay warm. For the next layer, choose wool or one of the newer synthetics, such as fleece. The outer shell should be wind proof and waterproof.

Mittens Pair of wool or synthetic mittens is the preferred choice. Your hands will stay warmer with mittens versus gloves.

Hat A stocking cap is a must. Most of the heat that the body loses is from the head. You will want to sleep with your stocking cap on.

Troop Gear

The Troop has camping equipment for about 40 Scouts and a 12-foot single axle cargo trailer. Our Sierra Design and Eureka tents with screens and floors are lightweight and suitable for backpacking. There are charcoal and low-impact backpacking stoves for each patrol and two dining flies. Patrol cook kits, utensils, and other required camping gear are continually upgraded and added. Troop gear is available for loan to Scouting families and Cub Scout Packs that "feed" Webelos Cubs to the Troop. A three burner Coleman gas stove is used on Troop outings not involving backpacking. Two large snow sleds are available for winter camping.

Equipment Specifically Not Allowed on Troop Outings

- ✦ Liquid fuel equipment (stoves, lanterns, etc)
The Troop uses propane stoves and lanterns.
- ✦ Butane lighters
- ✦ Sheath knives (knives that cannot be closed)

- ♣ Hatchets (hand axes)
 - ♣ Electronic games, toys and palm pilots
- Scouts must NOT bring radios, televisions, tape players, compact disc players, cellular telephones, electronic games or computers on any Troop activity. These detract from the program and might become lost or damaged. Please leave these items at home!

Camperships

It is Troop 112 policy that no Scout should miss an opportunity to participate in Troop activities because of money. Three dads on the Troop Committee have been appointed to act in confidence to assist you or your parents in case of need. Please contact the Troop Committee Chairman for assistance.

OTHER SCOUTING ACTIVITIES

Good Turns

The Boy Scout slogan is "Do a good turn daily." Performing "service hours" is a required part of rank advancement in scouting. Service projects shall be meaningful service not normally expected of a Scout as a part of his school, religious, or community activities. Troop 112 puts this into practice by assisting our sponsor, the Carmel Lions Club, by helping older scouts complete "Eagle projects," and by participating in the annual Scouting for Food drive. Our Troop also conducts periodic service projects when someone needs help.

Religious Emblems

"A Scout is reverent." All Scouts show this by being faithful in their duty to God. Some go further and give special service. This may qualify them for a religious emblem. Such an emblem is not a Scouting award. It is conferred on a Scout by his religious leader. Each faith has its own requirements for earning its emblem. You are encouraged to see your religious leader to find out more about your own religious emblem.

Order of the Arrow

The Order of the Arrow is a national brotherhood of Scout campers. The honor of becoming a member of the Order of the Arrow is one that you cannot set out to earn on your own. This honor is bestowed on a Scout by the members of his Troop. This is done when he has proved himself worthy of receiving it through active participation. A scout must be an outstanding and unselfish camper. Elections are held in December or January of the Scouting year.

Firecrafter

The Firecrafter program is an opportunity for Scouts to distinguish themselves while doing long-term camping. It is based on leadership, service and friendship in a summer camp situation. The three ranks of Firecrafter (Camper, Woodsman and Firecrafter) are designed to assist you in your Scouting advancement and provide opportunities for leadership and service. Firecrafter can only be earned at Summer Camp.

Voyageur Program

This is a canoe-centered outdoor program for boys who are First Class rank or higher. In addition to the Canoeing merit badge, participants also earn the Cooking, Camping, Swimming and Lifesaving merit badges. As a Scout earns these merit badges, he passes through the various Voyageur levels: Apprentice, Bowman, Sternman, Guide, and Voyageur. After planning and completing a 25-mile and a 50-mile overnight canoe trip, the Scout is ready to pass a board of review for his Voyageur feather.

Firestone Competition

The Firestone Competition is an annual competition sponsored by the Firestone Tire and Rubber Company. Boys compete on Scouting skills and community service projects. The winner gets a college scholarship. Runners-up receive scholarships for summer camp tuition. Announcement of the competition is in March, and the competition takes place the first weekend in May.

Miscellaneous Awards

There are numerous other Scouting activities in which you can qualify for special awards. These are generally outdoor-oriented programs and are listed in your Boy Scout Handbook.

ADVANCEMENT

Advancement is an important part of Scouting. It is a measure of a Scout's growth and achievement. To this end, Scouts in the Troop are encouraged and guided through the ranks of Scouting. It is our goal as a Troop to embrace and assist the new Scout to reach First Class rank in his first year in scouting. Higher ranks are earned by individual effort along with the Troop's assistance. Through participation in Troop events, you will learn new Scouting skills, complete requirements for rank advancement, and have a lot of fun. The ultimate goal is the attainment of your Eagle Scout award.

There are four steps of advancement:

1. The Boy Scout Learns.
2. The Boy Scout is Tested.
3. The Boy Scout is Reviewed.
4. The Boy Scout is Recognized.

Each Scout keeps his own personal advancement record in his Scout Handbook. The Troop also keeps advancement records for each Scout.

Your Junior Leaders in the Troop, First Class or above or one of the qualified adult leaders can pass you on advancement requirements. To avoid problems, a parent is not able to pass his or her own Scout on any rank or merit badge requirement. Only under special circumstances will this rule be waived. Brothers are never permitted to "sign off" on each others' requirements.

Scouting merit badges are awarded in recognition of proficiency in camping and other outdoor skills, in athletics and hobbies, and upon learning about different career choices. Merit badges must be earned to attain the higher ranks in scouting, and certain merit badges are required in order to achieve the rank of Eagle Scout.

When you are ready to work on a merit badge, check with your Scoutmaster and tell him your plans. Partner up with another Scout to work on the badge with you. Then, make an appointment with a registered Merit Badge Counselor who will guide and test you to make sure you have learned the subject of the merit badge.

The Merit Badge Counselor will certify on an approved merit badge application form (called a "blue card") that you have earned the merit badge when he or she is satisfied that you have completed all of the requirements. You will then give the blue card to the Troop Advancement Chairman.

Scouts in Troop 112 have many different options to earn Merit Badges, through Troop sponsored activities, Crossroads of America Council's Baden-Powell Workshop, Del-Mi District Merit Badge Workshop and most importantly, summer camp. Scouts, who do not complete the Merit Badge requirements at one of these events, are given a partially completed "blue card". This partially completed blue card is commonly referred to as a "partial". It is the Scout's responsibility to follow up with either the Merit Counselor they were working with or one of the Troop 112 Merit Badge counselor's for that particular Merit Badge to complete the remaining requirements.

Once you have completed all the rank requirements, have the requirements initialed and dated in your Scout Handbook and completed the time, leadership and service requirements required for Star, Life and Eagle, you are ready to schedule a Scoutmaster conference. When the Scout meets with the Scoutmaster, they must be in full Boy Scout uniform. At the Scoutmaster Conference, the Scoutmaster will make sure you are ready for the Board of Review; discuss your goals and accomplishments.

A Board of Review will be held for each of your rank advancements. This Board is a review, with members of the adult Troop Committee, of your past work and how well you have demonstrated Scouting spirit, how you are helping Scouting, and how Scouting is helping you. This is not a test! It is designed to help you progress in Scouting. This is generally held during the third Troop meeting each month.

Rank badges will be presented to the Scout at the first meeting following completion of the badge. Formal recognition will be presented at the next court of Honor (COH). Merit badges will be saved for presentation at the next court of Honor.

After attaining your Life Scout rank, you will receive a Life to Eagle Packet, and you will meet with one of the adult leaders in the Troop to discuss your Eagle Service Project. Special requirements have been outlined for this project, and your Eagle Service Project must conform to these guidelines. As you prepare your outline for your Eagle Service Project, you are asked to present the project to the Troop Committee for comments. Your Scoutmaster, the Troop Committee Chairman, and the District Advancement Chairman must all approve your project before you begin.

PARENT PARTICIPATION

All successful Scout Troops have in common the ingredient of parent involvement. The adults who guide and direct the Troop are all volunteers who have or have had sons in the Troop. It is only when parents get involved and help that a Scout Troop becomes a success.

Help can be as involved as being an Assistant Scoutmaster, a member of the Troop Committee, Merit Badge Counselor, members of Boards of Review, providing transportation for activities, helping with special events, or giving any other much needed and appreciated assistance to the Troop. We encourage all our parents to complete an Adult Boy Scout application and become registered as a member of Boy Scouts.

The Troop Committee generally meets on the first Sunday evening of each month, 7:00 PM, at the Lions Club. Parents can be a big help to the Troop by attending the Committee meetings.

What Adults Do on Campouts?

Parents are encouraged to join the Troop on campouts. Outdoor activities are the heart of the Scouting program. The Troop operates by the "Patrol Method", with Scouts doing most activities with their Patrols. The adults also form themselves into a "Patrol", the Owl Patrol, for an activity like a campout. Visiting parents are automatically part of the Owl Patrol, and will not be part of a Scout Patrol. Adults will prepare and eat meals together, and the Scouts will eat their meals together in their Patrol. Here is a summary of our Troop (and BSA) policies we share with parents on their first campout with the troop.

Scout Tenting & Meals—Scouts tent with their patrol in a patrol site separate from the adults. Patrols plan their own menus, and cook and eat together as a team. In general, adults do not eat or tent with a boy patrol.

Adult Tenting & Meals—Adults tent with the adult patrol in a patrol site separate from the other patrols. We plan our own menu, and cook and eat together as a team. In general, adults do not eat or tent with a boy patrol.

Adult/Boy Tenting—BSA youth protection policies forbid an adult and a boy sharing the same tent. While youth protection policies may not apply to a father and son tenting together, it is Troop policy that boys tent with boys and adults with adults. If a father tents with his son, it has been our experience that the boy will lose out on many opportunities to make decisions and be part of the patrol team!

Smoking/Drinking—Drivers may not smoke while Scouts are in the car. Adults may not smoke or use tobacco products, nor drink alcoholic beverages during a Scout activity. Adults who must smoke or chew must do so discretely out of sight of the Scouts.

Boy Leadership—Adults should not interfere with the functioning of boy leaders, even if they make mistakes (we all learn best from our mistakes). Step in only if it is a matter of immediate safety or if the mistake will be immediately costly. If possible, involve a uniformed adult leader first.

Boy Growth—Never do anything for a boy he can do himself. Let him make decisions without adult interference, and let him make non-costly mistakes.

Adult Training & Resources—The Boy Scouts of America provides an outstanding handbook for adults, and an excellent training course to help us understand the goals of Scouting and how to attain them. The adult manual is called the Scoutmaster Handbook, and it's worth your time to read it. The training is called Scout Leader Basic Training, and is offered a number of times throughout the year. It's also a good investment of your time. In addition, the Troop encourages all parents to attend Youth Protection Training within six months of your son joining the Troop. This training is offered by the District and Troop 112.

Summer Camp

Given that Summer Camp is six days in length, parents often desire to attend for a day or two to visit their Scout. While we encourage participation, visits need to be coordinated closely with the Leaders to avoid disruption and to assure space is available in camp. In addition, other special requirements apply, in order to prevent homesickness and deal with other BSA camp-specific policies. Please talk to the Leaders early if you have an interest in visiting or, even better, spending the week with Troop 112 at camp.

Rationale

Boy Scout camping activities center on the patrol, where boys learn teamwork, leadership, and most camping skills. It is important that adults not be in the middle of patrol activities such as site selection, tent pitching, meal preparation, and anything else where boys get to practice decision-making.

A key difference between Boy Scouting and Cub Scouting/Webelos is leadership. Look for the word "leader" in a job title, and you will begin to appreciate the difference. The responsible person for a Cub/Webelos den is the adult Den Leader. The responsible person for a Boy Scout patrol is the boy Patrol Leader.

This isn't token leadership (like a Denner). A Patrol Leader has real authority and genuine responsibilities. Much of the success, safety, and happiness of six to ten other boys depend directly on him. Boy Scout's teaches leadership. And boys learn leadership by practicing it, not by watching adults lead.

So what do we adults do, now that we've surrendered so much direct authority to boys? Here are our troop's guidelines on the indirect, advisory role you now enjoy (no kidding, you should enjoy watching your son take progressively more mature and significant responsibilities as he zooms toward adulthood).

The underlying principle is never doing anything for a boy that he can do himself. We allow boys to grow by practicing leadership and by learning from their mistakes. And while Scout skills are an important part of the program, what ultimately matters when our Scouts become adults is not whether they can use a map & compass, but whether they can offer leadership to others in tough situations; and can live by a code that centers on honest, honorable, and ethical behavior.

Boys need to learn to make decisions without adult intervention (except when it's a matter of immediate safety). Boys are in a patrol so they can learn leadership and teamwork without adult interference.

Being an adult advisor is a difficult role, especially when we are advising kids (even worse, our own sons). Each year, the Council offers special training on how to do this, which we expect our uniformed adults to take. And any adult is welcome—and encouraged—to take the training (see the Training Coordinator for the dates).

If a parent goes on a campout, you are an automatic member of The Owl patrol. This patrol has several purposes—good food and camaraderie (of course), but more important is providing an example the boy patrols can follow without our telling them what to do (we teach by example). Since a patrol should camp as a group, we expect the Owls to do so also; that way, adults don't tent in or right next to a boy patrol where your mere presence could disrupt the learning process.

Quite simply, our troop policy requires adults to cook, eat, and tent separately from the Scouts (even dads & sons). We are safely nearby, but not smothering close. Sure, go ahead and visit the patrol sites (not just your son's), talk to your son (and the other Scouts), ask what's going on or how things are going. But give the guys room to grow while you enjoy the view. Show a Scout how to do something, but don't do it for him. Avoid the temptation to give advice, and don't jump in just to prevent a mistake from happening (unless it's serious). We all learn best from our mistakes. And let the patrol leader lead.

Your job is tough, challenging, and ultimately rewarding, because your son will be a man the day after tomorrow.

When on campouts and outings, we tell our boys that parents are not there, adult leaders are there. We encourage the boys NOT to come to their parents for help but to use the Patrol method and escalate issues and questions through the Scout Leadership.

GENERAL TROOP RULES

Scouts will conduct themselves at all times in the spirit of the Scout Oath and Law.

Scout uniforms will be worn to all Scout functions, including Troop meetings, camp outs, Courts of Honor, or any Scout sponsored activity. "Class B" uniform (special Troop 112 shirt or other casual shirt with Scout insignia) can be worn during specified times or designated activities.

No Scout is allowed to leave camp alone and/or without permission.

Scouts must obtain a Tote-n-Chip before carrying or using an axe, pocketknife, or saw. Scouts must obtain a liquid fuel chip before operating a camp stove and then only under close adult supervision. The Tote-n-Chip is given to each Scout when proper use of knives, axe, and saw is demonstrated. The Liquid Fuel Chip is given to each Scout when proper use of the Troop's cook stoves is demonstrated.

No Scout is allowed to "play" with fire. All fires must be contained with the fire ring or cooking areas. Any Scout starting a fire must have a Firem'n Chit Card in his possession. The Firem'n Chit is awarded to each Scout when the Scout demonstrates proper respect for fire.

Fireworks, alcohol, cigarettes, drugs, etc. are strictly forbidden at any Scout function.

Lanterns, candles, or any open flames are never permitted in tents.

Annoying devices (water pistols, radios, recorders, Walkmen, etc.) are not permitted at Scout functions.

Scouts are not allowed to bring a cell phone on Troop activities.

Fighting, punching, teasing, hazing are never allowed.

Scouts are responsible for intentional damage to Troop property.

Scouts will take wet tentage home after camp outs to be properly dried and folded. Scouts issued a tent, or other equipment, are responsible for returning it to the Troop at the next meeting.

Violations of these rules may necessitate a call to the Scout's parents to come and get him. Repeated breach of conduct of a Boy Scout will result in his being asked to leave the Troop.
